Peggy French Sobs as She Claims Self-Defense

DEFENDANT TELLS DRAMATIC STORY IN PLEA FOR LIFE

State Rests and Jury Will Get Case Today After Hearing Arguments and Charge.

LETTERS TO VICTIM ARE READ IN COURT

Intimate Love Notes Eagerly Listened to by Crowds Which Fill Room
All During Day.

Tearfully and dramatically fighting the state's effort to send her to the electric chair, Mrs. Peggy French on Thursday told the jury trying her case in Judge G. H. Howard's court that she shot and killed John S. Garmon after he had brandished a pistol on her in her home and she had "become so terrified by the insane look on his face she did not know what she was doing."

Appearing as the last witness in her own defense, Mrs. French declared that she shot and killed Garmon as he demanded that she continue an affair with him which she said she sought to end, speaking between sobs and holding a densely crowded court room tense during the 25 minutes she was on the stand.

The state immediately followed with a short rebuttal of her statement, both prosecution and defense closing at 9 o'clock this morning when arguments will begin. Though no restriction was placed on the length of the arguments, both sides indicated they would use two hours each, Assistant Solicitor General John H.
Hudson opening for the state, James
A. Branch and William Schley Howard following for the defense and Assistant Solicitor General E. A. Stephens closing for the prosecution.

The state offered only one witness in rebuttal. He was E. S. Youmans, a co-worker of Garmon with the Southern railroad. Youmans testified that a short time prior to Garmon's death
he had received a telephone call from Mrs. Rogers in which she asked him to tell Garmon that Mrs. French had called her and threatened "to get" Garmon. His testimony was vigorously objected to by Mr. Branch, but Judge Howard permitted it to be kept in the record.

One of Three Witnesses.
Mrs. French, one of three witnesses to take the stand in behalf of the defense, appeared last Thursday afternoon to climax the second day of her trial after both prosecution and defense had read into the record a long series of letters from her to Garmon and one letter from Mrs. Ruth Rogers to Garmon, and the defense had failed in its effort to introduce into evidence two typewritten notes alleged to have been written by Garmon to Mrs.
French and found on his person after he was slain. The notes were intended to support the contention of the defense that Garmon had come to Mrs.
French's East Ninth street home to plead with her not to carry out what the defense called her intention to "forever" her relations with L. M.
The letters of Mrs. French to Garmon, with much intimate discussion deleted, were read to the jury by Assistant Solicitor Stephens while two letters which she said were offered in an attempt to prove that Garmon was displeased because Mrs. French sought to end their friendship were read by Mr. Howard. The Rogers letter was read by Mr. Stephens.

The appearance of Mrs. French drew one of the largest crowds in the history of the courthouse to Judge Howard's court. All morning hundreds of men and women, chiefly the latter, had sought to gain entrance to the court which had been filled nearly an hour before the jury came in at 9 o'clock. When a luncheon recess was taken and a few deserted their seats they were soon filled by those who had been forced to wait.

Tells Jury Story of Killing

Mrs. French, in Statement, Makes Self-Defense Plea

That she shot John S. Garmon in defense of her own life after Garmon and threatened to kill her and himself was the statement of Mrs. Peggy French, to the jury trying her for murder Thursday.

Taking the stand in her own defense, Mrs. French made the following statement to the jury in the presence of a crowded courtroom:
"I had known Mr. Garmon for a number of years. He and his wife had been on trips together. I am sorry to say that I had been too friendly with Mr. Garmon, but after he left his home and I realized the injustice that he was doing his wife and daughter and the wrongs that were guilty of I had made up my mind to try to get him to go back to his home and to his family."

"I had talked to Mr. Garmon a number of times about this and he had promised me that he would go back to his home and be true to his family. I had talked to Mrs. Rogers and tried to get her to help me in bringing about a reconciliation between Mr. Garmon and his wife and to try to bring about a reconciliation between Mrs. Rogers and Mr. Rogers.
Mr. Garmon's mother knows that I was doing this, and Mrs. Winnie Gar-mon knows it and Mrs. Rogers knows it."

"As to Mrs. Garmon's statement that I had made any threat against her son, there is not a word of truth in this. I have befriended Mrs. Gar-mon time and time again and tried to get her to get away from Jacksonville.
I would not do anything for her and her husband out of the home. I took her around to a number of places to get her a position, and I was convinced and written in the interest of vicious business organizations and
could not be defended."

"Those supporting the bill, he continued, would find out that they had used their own power to bring about their own destruction."

"Already," the Nebraska asserted,
"big business is seeing signs of depression and destruction that the probability of passage of this bill brings
before the entire civilized world."
Although regarding the bill as falling far short of "complete compliance with the republican promise in the Kansas City platform," Reed said:
"I know that if this bill fails now the agricultural industry and the business industry in this state will time will persist with increasing strength and we will have another tariff bill in the next long session of congress, and I do not believe American business is in condition to stand that."

"To have another bill in the next long session threaten our state as we have thrashed this out for more than 18 months," he asserted, "would be an unmitigated calamity to American industry and commerce. The plan is the things should be ended. It is better that this bill, with all its imperfections, should be adopted. It implies that we should not go into another session to face another coalition, which I fear and fear very greatly,
because perhaps they will do worse
by us than they have done this time."

"Just to avert that trouble and to prevent a continuance of this agitation of the subject of the tariff, I intend to vote for this conference report."

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12.—

tion's campaign pledge for the aid of agriculture.

Georgia senator said:

REED AND GRUNDY ASSURE PASSAGE OF TARIFF BILL

Pennsylvanians Announce
They Will Favor Bill;
Long Battle Will End
Today With Vote.

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(Op-
.)—Senators Reed and Grundy, republicans, of Pennsylvania, came out today for the tariff bill on the eve of the final showdown on the legislation in the minds of republican leaders that the measure might fail.

Proponents of the measure look for passage tomorrow by two votes and for house approval on Saturday.

Senator Reed, in a 20-minute speech, told an intensely expectant senate that he would vote for the conference report because he believed agitation for another bill would continue if the Hawley-Smoot measure failed and American business was in no condition "to stand that."

Senator Grundy listened attentively to his colleague's speech and, a few minutes later, off the floor, he told newspapermen he would follow Reed in supporting the bill.

The accession of the two Pennsylvania votes cast a perceptible wave of relief over the republican side of the chamber.

Unusual Sight.

The spectacle of two Pennsylvania senators withholding decision on a republican tariff measure was unusual, but Reed and Grundy had not told a single colleague how they stood, the former saying, he had made up his mind only a "few hours" before he spoke.

Reed said he had been inclined to vote against the bill but reached the senate chamber and was struck by
"because American industry is entitled to be relieved of the agitation that has been going on now for nearly two years, and American business has stood about all of that it can stand;
because it is almost better that a tariff agitation be ended than it be ended right."

He added that he did not approve of its agricultural rates, though many of the industries levies were too low,
and preferred existing administration provisions to those of the bill but regarded the measure worked out by the conference as a decided improvement over the house or senate bill.

Reed followed by Senator Grundy, republican, independent, Nebraska, who characterized the revision as "protection run perfectly mad."

Reed said the measure was "conceived and written in the interest of vicious business organizations" and
could not be defended.

Those supporting the bill, he continued, would find out that they had
used their own power to bring about their own destruction."

Depression Signs.

"Already," the Nebraska asserted,
"big business is seeing signs of depression and destruction that the probability of passage of this bill brings
before the entire civilized world."

Although regarding the bill as falling far short of "complete compliance

BUNCO OPERATIONS ENTER CAMPAIGN

Key Compliant, Says
Moore—Former Charges
Election Plot.

Councilman Wiley L. Moore, candidate for mayor in next Wednesday's primary, Thursday night enlivened the heated campaign with the charge that ex-Mayor James L. Key, one of his opponents, was officially compliant while the Woodward bunco gang operated within two blocks of his office. Moore also charged that the office of city clerk, held by Walter C. Taylor, who has been convicted of bribery, was made elective by council instead of the people during Key's administration.

At the hour Moore was speaking in his own home ward, at the People's Street school, Key addressed a gathering at the Hoke Smith Junior High school, in the third ward, and charged that an organized effort is being made to "steal the election."

Tonight the political arena will shift to the Samuel Inman school, where Moore's friends will rally, and to the Joel Chandler Harris school, where friends of Key will meet. Other meetings tonight include a rally called for 8 o'clock at Taft Hall, city auditorium, by the Order of the Hornets, and a meeting at 8 o'clock at Fleming's store, Howard street and DeKalb avenue, arranged by Thomas W. Jones, candidate for council from the Twelfth ward.

Candidates have been invited to address a gathering early Saturday afternoon at Grant park, where a barbecue lunch will be served for the benefit of Martha Brown M. E. church.

Official compliance on the part of former Mayor James L. Key, who while within two blocks of his office
the Floyd Woodward bunco gang carried on its depredations, was charged against him Thursday night by Wiley Moore, candidate for mayor, speaking before a gathering of the voters of the seventh, his home ward.

Committee Votes, 4 to 1,
It Had No Right To Question Bishop About Anti-Smith Activities.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(Op-
.)—The dramatic controversy between Bishop James Cannon, Jr., and the senate lobby committee was officially ended today when the investigators agreed they would not compel him to answer questions about his 1928 anti-Smith activities and voted to submit a report to the senate.

By a four to one vote the committee agreed not to require the bishop to answer questions and later during a two-hour session behind closed doors, decided to submit to the senate a transcript of the examination of the churchman.

Senator Blaine, republican, Wisconsin, contended that when the results of the examination were made public it would be required by law to submit to the district attorney the fact that Cannon refused to answer questions and that the district attorney is required to lay the matter before a grand jury.

Can Do Nothing, Walsh.

A directly opposite view was taken, however, by Chairman Caraway, who explained the committee had ruled that it had no power to ask the questions and, therefore, the southern Methodist churchman had not legally declined to answer.

Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, expressed the opinion that nothing could be done until someone raised the question in the senate as to the relevance of the questions asked Cannon.

Two proposals for further action against the bishop were reached at the executive session. A motion by Senator Walsh to ask the senate for specific authority to inquire into political activities was defeated three to two, while a proposal by Senator Blaine to cite the bishop to the senate for possible contempt proceeded unanimously only one vote.

Walsh and Blaine favored the first proposal while Blaine cast the only vote for his motion.

By agreeing to take no further action against the bishop the committee adopted the following resolution:
"Resolved, That it is the sense of the committee that it should not insist on answers to questions propounded to Bishop James Cannon, Jr., and the transcript of the whole record be laid before the senate."

May Ask Senate to Act.

To insist upon deciding not to insist on answers to questions, but approved presenting the record to the senate, Senator Robinson, republican, Indiana, voted for the first part of the resolution and resolution and the other portion. The other three members approved the entire resolution.

Sensor Walsh explained, however,
that it did have authority but he doubt raised as to the authority of the committee to go into political activities. He has contended all along that it did have authority but he
doubt raised as to the authority of
the committee to go into political activities.

Chairman Caraway said the committee's decision would not prevent any individual member from offering resolutions in the senate to seek further action against the bishop, Walsh and Blaine declined to comment on their intention to follow on this course.

Meeting this morning with Bishop Cannon present, the committee informed him of its decision reached yesterday, not to compel him to answer the questions to which he objected. The bishop received the information in silence and against only two statements during the entire hearing.

At one point he told Chairman
Caraway that Dr. Cannon was not Wilson was an officer of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church and at the conclusion of the hearing said he had to leave next Monday for Nashville, Tenn., to attend a church meeting.

Not Lobbying.

The bishop, who was without the crutch he has been using, leaned comfortably back in his chair and listened to the explanations by committee members of their attitude.

Caraway and Robinson contended the activities of the bishop did not involve lobbying in any manner and therefore the committee did not have authority to question him. Borah, who was absent, was understood to agree with them.

Walsh said he concurred in the decision not to compel the bishop to answer questions about his political activities. He thought it would be unwise to go further because of the doubt about the committee's authority. He immediately presented his resolution to ask for specific authority.

Vigorous opposition to the decision not to compel answers was voiced by determining. It adjourned today subject to the call of Chairman Caraway.

INVS CONVICTED AND GIVEN TERM OF 9 TO 10 YEARS

Filling Station Manager
Is Found Guilty by Jury of Voluntary Manslaughter.

R. M. Ivins, filling station manager, Thursday night was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter in the slaying of Tom Denaris, proprietor of the Adams cafe on Forsyth street, and was sentenced to serve from nine to ten years in the penitentiary.

The verdict was returned by a jury in Judge Virlyn B. Moore's court after deliberating a little more than an hour. The case was given to the jury at 10:20 o'clock and the verdict returned and read at 11:50 o'clock.
The trial was completed in one day.
Ivins' attorneys gave notice of intention to file for a new trial.

The prosecution was handled by Assistant Solicitor-General J. Walter LeCraw.

Denaris was shot and killed in his restaurant on the night of May 18.
Against the testimony of state witnesses that trouble between Denaris and Ivins was precipitated by the latter, Ivins contended that he slew the cafe man in self-defense.

Bill Banks, John Wood and LeRoy
Green, alleged eyewitnesses, testified that they heard Ivins curse Denaris, and tell his companion, Joe James,
to "cut out the fool" and "get out if you don't want to be hurt."

Attorney Sam D. Hewitt, summing up the defense, contended that Denaris and Ivins exchanged joking remarks, and that Denaris started the trouble by jumping on Ivins, beating him and threatening to kill him. Hewitt contended that Ivins was justified in killing Denaris.

TWO CITIES PLAN 'BOBBY'S WELCOME'

Many Atlantans To Greet Golf Conqueror in New York.

New York is getting ready to tear up another printing of telephone directories and welcome Bobby Jones, Atlanta's own, back from his conquering expedition to old England.

Atlanta is to play a big part in greeting Bobby when he lands in New York July 2 to pause a little while before moving on to Minneapolis to try once again at the American open championship. A group of prominent Atlanta businessmen, gathered at a lunch at the Atlanta Athletic Club Thursday to discuss plans for the welcome, were informed that Mayor James J. Walker, of New York, had designated Joseph Johnston, former Atlanta and until recently commissioner of public works in New York,
as chairman of the New York citizens' committee to arrange the reception to the golfing hero.

Mayor Walker has expressed a desire to welcome Bobby, who brings back for the city the British amateur championship, in a style surpassing the reception accorded the distinguished sportsman when he came back with the British open championship a few years ago. Mr. Johnston Thursday wired Scott Hudson, host to the Atlanta committee at lunchon, that elaborate plans for the reception are being made there.

Major John S. Cohen was named chairman of the citizens' committee and announced after lunch that anyone who cared to go to New York to take part in the reception was invited.

Members of the committee designated to attend, with any friends of Bobby Jones who care to go, are Mayor I. N. Rupprecht, Clark Howell,

was Rev. George Lelle, who was born in Virginia in 1750 and baptized by Rev. Matthew Moore, white, in 1774 in Burke county, Georgia. It was a small start for negro Baptists but now there are 55,555 Baptist preachers in the United States and 5,000 of them are negro preachers here in Georgia; the whole number of Baptist churches in the country is 61,878 and the negroes have 4,004 of them here in this state; the number of Baptists in the country is 8,088,449 and about one-sixteenth of them are in Georgia negro churches.

ATLANTAN IS NAMED HEAD OF BUILDERS

Chas. F. Palmer Chosen; Newspapers Only Place To Advise, Advice.

BILOXI, Miss., June 12.—(AP)—Office buildings should follow the example of other industries in the use of advertising on a regular and consistent basis, Allan C. Gottschaldt, Atlanta, Ga., told the twenty-third annual convention of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers here today in his address.

The primary medium that should be selected by the office building industry, said Mr. Gottschaldt, is the newspaper.

"The office building industry is in competition with other industries," said Mr. Gottschaldt.

"If the head of a household who happens to be also the head of a firm is induced to buy a new radio, a set of matched clubs, or take a trip to Europe with the family, he is in no mood to talk about more attractive office space."

"Your primary medium, by all means, is the newspaper. America is a reading nation—a newspaper reading nation. Your office building advertisement belongs to the newspaper to produce inquiries to create prestige, and to break down sales resistance for your rental salesman."

"In selecting the particular newspaper, remember that newspapers have their circulations broken down by city, you can pick and choose intelligently and economically. If you seek 'city coverage' you naturally won't advertise in the paper that has the large out-of-town circulation."

"Give your newspaper advertising the benefit of good art work, good cuts and good typography."

"Your market is people and your advertising approach must be human. The public is quick to respond, but it is equally quick to reject. Even if your building is rented to capacity, you need some advertising. It isn't enough that you advertised your building when it first opened, for you must remember that half the people in the United States are under 26 years of age, which represents an ever changing market of prospects for you. New executives are constantly coming on the scene."

"Suppose that real beer were suddenly legalized again, the brewers would have to spend a lot of money with the new generation 'beer consumers.'"

"Good advertising pays for office buildings as well as for any other industry."

Charles F. Palmer, of Atlanta, was selected today as president of the association for the coming year.

Legge Is Renamed To U. S. Farm Board

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(UN)—President Hoover's strong support of the farm bill has been made evident by his reappointment of Chairman Alexander Legge and C. C. Teague as chairman and member of the board, respectively.

The board has been strongly attacked by the United States Chamber of Commerce and by the grain commission men as a result of the board's purchase of millions of bushels of wheat to stop a price drop.

Legge and Teague have been serving temporary one-year terms. Legge, an executive of the International Harvester Company before he took this government position, and his colleague both were named to full six-year terms in the nominations sent to the senate today.

Confirmation with little, if any, opposition is expected. Mr. Hoover also sent to the senate the nomination of W. Cameron Forbes, Boston, to be ambassador to Japan to succeed the late Ambassador McVane. Forbes is a former Philippine governor-general and recently chairman of the Hoover committee which investigated conditions in Haiti.

Roycrofters Erect Statue to Hubbard

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 12.—(AP)—The Roycrofters at East Aurora have completed a memorial statue of Elbert Hubbard, which will be unveiled Thursday, June 19, with a celebration extending through four days. The statue, which is of heroic size, has been placed on the Grove street campus, the face looking toward the chapel where Fra Elbertus delivered his famous address. It rests upon a white marble base which was carved and brought from Ireland, near the scene of the Lusitania disaster in which Fra Elbertus lost his life.

Among those to whom invitations have been extended to attend the unveiling are former President Calvin Coolidge, Sir Charles Higham, Roger Babson, Adolph Ochs, Howard Heinz, Will Hays, Bruce Barton, William McAdoo and Carrie Jacobs Bond.

Deputies of France Approve World Court

PARIS, June 12.—(AP)—The chamber of deputies by a vote of 567 to 13 today ratified the act of arbitration of the League of Nations and adhered to the facultative jurisdiction clause of the court of international justice.

Pierre Cot, radical, referring to the Leghorn speech of Premier Mussolini, of Italy, said:

"A eulogy to cannon and machine guns was heard recently and claims were presented in an unaccustomed fashion. The reply of the French parliament will be the adoption of the law."

Foreign Minister Briand replied energetically to criticisms made by communists of the arbitration act. He said that the League of Nations council and the court of international justice had succeeded in stopping incipient wars and in settling more than a score of serious international conflicts. He concluded that whatever else might be necessary to reach an ideal international situation, this measure of arbitration must be adopted now.

The chamber, excepting the communists, voted as a body to ratify the act.

Mitchell Approves New Florida Justice

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP)—Attorney-General Mitchell today indorsed a bill of Senators Fletcher and Trammell providing for the appointment of an additional judge for the southern district of Florida, to take the place of the late Federal Judge Lake Jones.

A letter to Chairman Norris of the senate judicial committee, Attorney-General Mitchell said:

"Until the death of Judge Lake Jones, quite recently, the southern district of Florida was provided with three district judges. The position held by Judge Jones was created by the act of September 14, 1922, and under the terms of that act lapsed upon the death of the incumbent. A successor cannot be appointed unless congress shall give authority and this bill is designed to have that effect."

SAFE CRACKING IS LAID TO EXPERT YEGGMEN

Expressing the opinion that it was the work of professionals, Atlanta police detectives Thursday began looking for clues they hope will lead to the arrest of the yeggs who blew the large car had been found, containing some explosives and fuses, at the Terminal station about 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. Papers in it indicated that it might have come from Charlotte, N. C., or Nashville, Tenn. Special Agent McMillan, of the Southern railway, and Detectives W. W. Ford and W. D. McGee are working on the case.

After blasting the safe and leaving a sarcastic note pasted on its front, the yeggs, evidently frightened by the approach of a patrolman on his rounds to see if back entrances had been locked, left furs valued at more than $12,000 in an alley behind the store.

Police investigation indicated that the men worked slowly, opening the safe with nitroglycerine and then selecting the furs while waiting for the "soup" to explode. The heavy outer doors were blown off and the thin inner door forced open with burglar tools. One $20 bill and a large amount of checks were left, the former having been located in a drawer separate from the bulk of the cash.

Entrance was effected through a third floor window, the safe being in the office on this floor. Police, on the meager evidence of the boxes of furs left behind, concluded the yeggs had probably reached the ground with all their loot when the officer on his rounds was heard approaching the rear door entrance.

Gloves worn by the yeggs while operating on the safe and handling the fur cabinets were left behind in order to avoid leaving finger prints that might be traced.

The note from the yeggs, evidently written by one unfamiliar with a typewriter, said that they "couldn't afford to leave town broke," adding, "Excuse the sarcasm, please; it isn't meant for it."

New York Plane Crash Kills One, Hurts One

CICERO, N. Y., June 12.—(AP)—Homer Messier, air pilot, of the airport here, was killed, and Walter Buysa, of Onondaga, his passenger, was seriously injured in an airplane crash here this afternoon. Messier was buried in the wreckage of the craft. The aircraft buried itself in the ground on the Horton farm, just outside the village, on the Cicero-Clay road. It failed to bank on a turn. Buysa was a student pilot, holding a limited license. Messier, well known in aviation circles in this section, had been attached at the airport only this season, and held a full pilot's license.

SPEEDING AMBULANCE AIDED THROUGH CITY

Police Escort Provided for Injured Man Making 1,000-Mile Journey.

An ambulance that had averaged 63 miles an hour from the time it left Miami Wednesday night, with motorcycle officers to clear traffic through cities, passed through Atlanta early Thursday morning hurrying W. A. Neill, victim of an auto injury last February in Miami, to his home in Sandusky, Ohio.

Motorcycle Officers Charles Schilling and Earl Harbin were assigned by Police Chief Beavers to meet the ambulance a little beyond Hapeville and escort it through the city to Bolton. Officers were expected to meet it outside of Chattanooga and pilot it through the Tennessee city.

Neill has hovered between life and death for several weeks and, after expressing a wish to be taken home to die, ordered the ambulance. Doctors said the trip would not affect his condition.

'Missing' Atlantan On Way Home Again

Henry Slappey, Atlanta youth who has been missing from his Albany boarding house since June 3, was on his way home Thursday night to see his mother, Mrs. Rutherford Slappey, 386 Sixth street, N. E., who has worried for three days over his whereabouts.

Young Slappey was located at Omega, where he was working on a farm with Frank Johnson, a friend. The latter had notified Albany police that Slappey was all right, but had failed to so notify his mother here until she wired late Thursday for full information.

MISSIONARIES CLOSE ATLANTA CONVENTION

The missionary conference, which has been holding daily sessions in Big Bethel church this week, closed Thursday night, Bishop W. A. Fountain, D. D., presiding.

Bishop H. B. Parks, D. D., following the devotionals conducted by Dean S. H. Giles, of Turner Theological seminary, and Dr. J. W. Stinson, of Arkansas, heard special workers speak on the following subjects: Emmie W. O'Neil, "Young People and the Church;" N. B. Chambliss, "Junior Missionary Society;" F. L. Hadley, "Woman's Missionary as a Connectional Movement;" Katie Mae Davis, "The Rural and City Church Problems;" Dr. D. H. Staunton, "Local Leadership in the Rural and City Community Service;" Dr. Brewster, "The Missionary of Today and His Relation to the World's Program of Christianity."

C. S. Smith, of Detroit, made an earnest plea in behalf of the wife of the late Bishop Smith, of the youth of the race that are lost to the church. Dr. E. Christian Chase, of St. Croix, Virgin Islands, S. A., and Dr. Eli Busabe Nyombolo, editor of the African Echo, Pondoland, Africa, addressed the conference on their posts in the foreign field work.

Closing exercises Thursday night were featured by unveiling a statue of Bishop H. M. Turner, who for 50 years established missions in Africa, South America and the isles of the seas. He was once the bishop of his church in Georgia.

President W. A. Fountain, A. M., Ph. D., of Morris Brown University, spoke on "The Education of the Negro," and President O. A. Wilson, A. M., of Shorter college, Arkansas, on "Christian Education and Christian Leadership." Nashville, Tenn., will get the next convention, it is understood.

The cornerstone connecting the original building with the spacious addition being built for the headquarters of the First National bank was laid Thursday afternoon amid impressive ceremony. Top picture shows J. Carroll Payne, one of the oldest directors of the bank, stooping to spread mortar for the stone, while Miss Alta Peterson, who presented him with the silver trowel, looks on. In the upper photo group also are shown President John K. Ottley, Ben S. Read, president of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company; E. C. Peters, another pioneer director, and O. A. Barge, of the Barge-Thompson Company builders. Lower photo shows Mr. Peters receiving his trowel from the hands of Mrs. Eugene F. Willis, while Mr. Payne looks on.

In an impressive ceremony marked by addresses of high banking officials the cornerstone of the newly-enlarged First National Bank building was laid late Thursday afternoon.

The exercises, which were held in an improvised auditorium on what will be the ground floor of the addition to the bank headquarters at Five Points, included speeches by John K. Ottley, president; Robert F. Maddox, chairman of the executive committee, and Thomas K. Glenn, chairman of the board of directors, who presided. The stonelaying activities were carried out by J. Carroll Payne, E. C. Peters and Ben S. Read.

Following the invocation by Bishop W. A. Fountain, Mr. Ottley reviewed the history of the initial national bank of this city, reciting the fact that the land on which the present great institution stands, together with 200 acres adjoining, was purchased 100 years ago from Benjamin Beckman, who held the original grant from the state of Georgia, for a price of $41. Today, Mr. Ottley said, that investment is valued "at many millions of dollars."

"Twenty-five years ago," he continued, "the original portion of this building was erected in the undisputed heart of Atlanta. We felt at the time that it should be adequate for the needs of the Fourth National bank for many decades, but only after thirteen years it was found necessary to remodel the lower stories extensively and take over the entire ground floor, which up to that time had been occupied by commercial tenants. And now, after twelve more years of progress, growth and consolidation, we have had to acquire additional territory, trebling that occupied by the original structure and completely rebuild our banking quarters."

Bank Growth Reviewed.

"In 1905 the Atlanta National bank, the Fourth National bank and the Lowry National bank were using approximately 22,000 square feet of floor space. Today we are preparing floor space in the amount of 112,000 square feet to accommodate the First National bank, which is a consolidation of the three banks mentioned above."

Mr. Maddox's address also reviewed the history of the bank, harking back to the days immediately following the Civil War.

"The rapid progress Atlanta, Georgia and the south has made in the past 35 years," he said, "has astonished the world. This bank has seen Atlanta grow from a struggling village of about 5,000 to a metropolis of more than 350,000. It has seen its marvelous expansion in commerce and industry and has watched with pride its development along spiritual, artistic and educational lines until it is now recognized as the most metropolitan city in the south, and in all of the progress of this city, this bank has always recognized its responsibility and has loyally co-operated in every way to promote its continued development. It has steadily increased its capital and has broadened its service in this city and state to keep step with the needs of this section."

Wealth of Influence.

"Many men who gave their life's work and best efforts to give Atlanta a high standard of banking service have been called to their home beyond the stars, but the First National Bank of Atlanta is proud of the wealth of influence it has inherited from them and the high character of their conduct will be cherished by it and ever be an inspiration to its officers of today and to its officers in the days to come."

"The Atlanta National bank with its Austell, Richards, Romare and Currier; the American National bank with its Maddox, Rucker and Peet; the Lowry bank with W. M. and R. J. Lowry, Orme and Murphy; the Fourth National bank with its English, Ryan, Inman and Gray—the names of these banks and the names of these men, and many others like them, are now cherished memories but are the golden threads which time has woven into the splendid picture which represents the First National Bank of Atlanta."

"We are not unmindful of the fact that the life blood of this bank and all it represents is now and always has been the confidence and goodwill of its patrons. It could not have reached the pre-eminent position it occupies today without the aid of the south without the friendly co-operation of the people of this section, and for their help we are sincerely grateful."

Director Pleased By Talent Shown For Kiddie Revue

Daily rehearsals of the 150 Atlanta children who will take part in the big milk fund benefit production, "Tortown Revue," at the Capitol Theater during the week of June 23, indicate a performance that will rival the finest professional efforts in New York or anywhere else. Miss Ruth Alpert, leading Broadway producer, who is here training and rehearsing the youthful performers, declares that she has never seen a city like Atlanta that could produce so many real stage artists of such tender years. None of the youthful performers is more than 14 years old.

These talented children are giving their services for the week of June 23, in order that the Atlanta Masonic Club may realize its ambition to provide a plentiful supply of milk for the child patients at the Scottish Rite Hospital. As one young performer said Thursday, "We strong kids ought to work hard so the poor crippled kids at the hospital can get lots of milk to make them strong, too."

During the entire week of the benefit production, 16 young ladies, members of the Pi Pi Club, will be found in the lobbies of the theater dressed as milkmaids, soliciting contributions to the milk fund.

The entire program at the Capitol for that week is of exceptional interest, the full regular offering on both screen and stage being given as well as the added attraction of the kiddie revue. On the screen one of the cleverest and funniest of recent feature talking picture releases will be seen. This is Marion Davies in her latest starring vehicle, "The Floradora Girl," a story of New York in the nineties. On the stage one of the always excellent vaudeville bills will be seen, consisting of selected "Ace" acts of the Loew vaudeville circuit.

"Four bottles of Sargon built up and strengthened my whole system and did me more real good than everything else I tried put together during the three years of my trouble," recently stated R. H. Birdsong, 230 Glenn St., S. W., Atlanta, well-known carpenter. "I couldn't eat anything hardly without suffering from indigestion. I was bilious and dizzy and had a time of it with headaches. My skin was yellowish, I was restless and nervous and so weak and worn out it was all I could do to keep up and going. I decided to try Sargon and now I feel like a different man from head to foot. I sleep and eat better than I have in years, the indigestion, dizzy spells and headaches are gone and I put in a full day's work now and hold my own with the best of them!"

"Sargon Pills got my liver to working right and have just about ended my chronic constipation. My color is clear and healthy-looking, and I'll tell anybody the Sargon treatment does everything claimed for it."

SHE SUFFERED WITH BAD CASE OF PILES

Doctored a Lot But She Gained No Relief—Simple Remedy Finally Found.

HEALS AND ALSO RELIEVES PAIN

"I suffered so with bleeding piles I could hardly lie down or sit down at times. The doctor seemed unable to help me, and I was afraid would have to be operated on. I already had suffered more or less this way for several years, and tried salves and lots of other things. Then I saw a Colace Pile Pill advertisement in the St. Louis Times. The first bottle was nearly gone before I could see results, but after that they proved as good as can be. They are healing to the bowels, and relieve that dreadful pain, and knowing how many women suffer, I gladly write to say you can refer to me as one who praises Colace Pile Pills always," writes Mrs. W. H. Copeland, Sudsheim, Mo.

Thousands of grateful men and women have found these little pills, taken with a swallow of water at meal times, go deep down inside to the roots of the trouble, and healing, soothing and banishing the cause, work almost as if by magic. No salves, suppositories or any operations any more for them. If the reader suffers with piles in any form, obtain at your druggist or direct, and use on positive guarantee that treatment will banish pain and symptoms to complete satisfaction or money back. If out druggist can obtain of his job for you, or send 75c for regular bottle of 48 pills, postage paid, to Colace Chemical Co., Brentwood, Md.—(adv.)

CHICAGO PAYS HONOR TO SLAIN REPORTER

Magnificence Marks Funeral—New Drive Opens Against Gangs.

CHICAGO, June 12.—(AP)—With an aroused populace demanding results, Chicago newspapers moved tonight to take over active leadership in tracking down the assassin of Alfred "Jake" Lingle and purging the city of criminals. Scarcely had Lingle been buried when Charles F. Rathbun, of Tribune counsel, was made assistant state's attorney to handle the investigation.

Pat Roche, former ace of the federal narcotic forces and now chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, will head the investigators. Rathbun will have complete charge of the legal phases.

The action came close on the heels of a meeting of representatives of seven leading newspapers which adopted a resolution pledging their organizations and resources to the cleaning up of "gang, police, official and any other public viciousness."

Ask Police Heads Removed.
"Considering the causes and the connotations of the unbelievable total of 100 gang murders in little more than a year and acting in accord and union," the resolution said, "we pledge our organizations and our resources to the cleaning up of gang, police, official and any other public viciousness wherever it may appear, in order that corruption and the resulting gang activities may be brought to an end, and thereby restoring to the citizens of Chicago civic decency and security of life and property."

At about the same time Alderman Arthur F. Albert issued a statement demanding that Police Commissioner William F. Russell and Deputy Commissioner of Detectives John Stege take furloughs for one or two months.

Albert urged that Captains James Allman and Thomas Condon, known as "hard-boiled" officers, be placed in charge of the police department. He said he would place this demand before the police committee meeting Monday.

Albert asserted that if the heads of the department did not take kindly to his suggestions he would place the matter before the city council.

625 Hoodlums Jailed.
Meanwhile the six veteran police gang fighters and their picked squads continued to raid the haunts of Chicago's gangsters, combing the underworld dives. The squads seized 25 prisoners, including Peter Genna, James Belcastro and Rocco Fanelli, bringing the total arrested since Wednesday night up to approximately 625.

Dr. John Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist church, announced during the day that the Methodist clergy would take a hand in the situation. He said a campaign of education against crime would be waged from every Methodist pulpit in Chicago.

Lingle had covered the elaborate funerals of big gangsters, but he, shot down by some gunman of the underworld, had a bigger funeral than any he had reported for The Tribune.

He lay in a silver-bronze casket while the fellows he had pulled with for 18 years listened to a priest invoke God's vengeance on his assassin, heard the final requiem celebrated for him in Our Lady of Sorrows church, bore his body to a grave and then ground out the story for the world to read. Chief among the pallbearers was his close friend, Commissioner Russell.

None of those listed in the "Who's Hoodlum" was arrested, and either the gang leaders were keeping under cover from the picked detectives turned loose to corral them or they were leaving the city.

It was learned that air lines were carrying capacity loads with some extra planes pressed into use, but there was no evidence that the surplus passengers were hoodlums.

SIX SUSPECTS ARE RELEASED.
NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP)—Six "sporting gentlemen from Chicago," arrested last night as they arrived for the Sharkey-Schmeling fight, in the hope they might know something of the murder there of Jake Lingle, reporter, were freed of vagrancy charges today.

Their sartorial elegance and the $80,000 they had in their pockets belied the vagrancy charge.

Police said they gained little information from the six, all disclaiming any knowledge of the Lingle slaying.

DRUGGANS PALS HELD AT LEXINGTON.
LEXINGTON, Ky., June 12.—(AP) Two Chicago men who came to Lexington last Sunday in a 10-cylinder automobile with Terry Druggan, Chicago beer baron, were being held at police headquarters on charges of kidnapping and loitering charges.

They were arrested in a hotel here late Wednesday. They registered as Max Schneider, 35, and Louis Cushman, 34, both of Chicago.

"Sure, I came here with Terry Druggan. Is there anything wrong in that?" said Schneider. "I'd rather be in his company than with some judges and people like that. I made my money with Terry."

"Terry Druggan never did anything worse than selling some good, drinkable beer. We came down here to look over some horses and possibly buy some good 'c-rings' if we found anything we liked."

Schneider exhibited a straw hat which he said was recently bought for him by Albert (Jake) Lingle, Chicago newspaper reporter, who was slain Monday, presumably by gangsters.

"I knew Jake well," said Schneider, "and he was a fine fellow."

Success Predicted For Memorial Drive
Success in the movement to improve Fair street from Whiteford avenue to Avondale Estates, thus creating a "memorial drive" to the Mountain was foreseen at the regular monthly meeting of the 12th Ward Improvement Club Thursday night.

The club working in conjunction with the 11th Ward Improvement recently launched the project. R. W. Crenshaw, former mayor of East Lake, was the principal speaker at the meeting Thursday night and he lauded the movement, urging co-operation between county and city officials in the completion of the Memorial Drive. J. C. Murphy, councilman from the 11th ward and member of the 11th Ward Improvement Club, pledged co-operation of his office in the matter.

L. T. Y. Nash, commissioner of roads and revenue of DeKalb county, assured the assemblage of his support and Clark Donaldson, chief of construction in Atlanta, pledged the cooperation of his office in the matter.

L. E. Cooker, president of the 11th Ward Improvement Club, spoke briefly, while others who were heard during the evening included Roy Leathers, Dr. E. E. Clark, John E. Chambers and others.

CAROL MAKES HELENE QUEEN IF NOT WIFE

BUCHAREST, June 12.—(AP)—Queen Mother Marie returned from Germany tonight to find that her son, the new King Carol II, had proclaimed his divorced wife Queen Helene of Rumania.

Carol's decree followed his statement earlier in the day that he considered his divorced wife "already queen of Rumania," but he later made an official proclamation. The king's view was that on the death of his father, King Ferdinand, he, as Crown Prince Carol, automatically became king by right, his wife, since they were not then divorced, became queen in the same manner.

While Princess Helene has been standing off from a reconciliation since the return of Carol as king Sunday, she was reported today to have been satisfied with the plans to crown her as queen.

When the queen mother arrived tonight she received a welcome which bystanders said never had been surpassed for spontaneous warmth in this Balkan kingdom.

She waved from the window of her compartment as the train rumbled to a halt and her eyes glistened with joyous tears when she sighted her

IVINS CONVICTED, GETS 9 TO 10 YEARS

Jett said Ivins shot twice and George Georgelas, a waiter in the cafe, grabbed him. Ivins then shot again, hitting Denaris, and when Georgelas got a bread knife and cut at him while still holding him by the neck, Ivins managed to turn and shoot Georgelas. Hewlett contended. The attorney claimed that Georgelas bit Ivins on the hand, took the pistol away and snapped the empty chambers at the defendant.

Ivins related his life's history in his statement to the jury, and claimed that he defended his life. He charged that Denaris was the aggressor.

As Ivins went on trial Thursday he was served with a $15,000 damage suit filed by Georgelas, who charged that the defendant assaulted him with intent to murder "after he had murdered Denaris." Georgelas charged that Ivins shot without provocation, and, in addition to killing Denaris, wounded him in the chest. The suit was filed by Attorneys G. Seals Aiken and Cecil R. Hall.

Attorney George C. Farantos assisted the state in prosecution of the murder case. Hewlett and Dennis and Thomas J. Lewis defended Ivins.

The members of the jury follow: J. E. Murphy, A. N. Ayers, T. J. Venable, Rufus Barnett, N. B. Vin, W. J. Turner, A. Matthews, J. T. Bridwell, J. N. Hill, Jr., Rufus Finch, Paul T. Walraven and H. L. Dickerson.

tall son who has taken the throne of his father.

They embraced as Queen Marie alighted, and a great throng cheered. Brilliant groups of army officers and high civil officials kissed her hand.

With the formalities over, Queen Marie went to the waiting room of the station with King Carol.

Although it had been forecast that Princess Helene would meet her mother-in-law, she did not appear.

Queen Marie appeared at her best. She was handsomely garbed in a light grey georgette dress and cape, with a grey toque to match, and wore a huge lilac-colored silk scarf.

The Rumanian government situation tonight amounted to a crisis with King Carol using his utmost influence to launch a cabinet but met little success.

A section of the liberal party, disgruntled because of the turn of affairs by which a regency passed into history overnight and an exiled crown prince returned as a ruler, has seen fit to declare a republic. Thus a political wing upon which the new king might have depended for unified support, was split and a simple situation in which a single monarch, instead of a regency, would ratify parliament acts, was made vexingly complex.

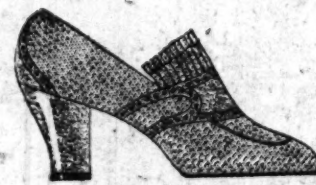

Political leaders would disapprove calling the resulting situation a crisis but any other appellation would be a misnomer.

State Dental Society Installs Dr. K. R. Armstrong President

Dr. Klatte R. Armstrong, of Atlanta, was installed as president of the Georgia State Dental Society at its annual banquet Thursday night in the main dining room of the Ansley hotel, which brought to a close the 62nd annual convention of the society with a program featured by presentation of a host of distinguished professional guests.

Dr. Armstrong succeeds Dr. W. B. Childs, of Macon, who retired amid the plaudits of the convention for his record as executive. In addition to installation of Dr. Armstrong, Dr. R. F. Phillips, of Savannah, vice president of the society, was elevated to the position of president-elect until the next annual meeting, at which he automatically will become president.

The annual banquet, tendered in honor of Dr. R. Boyd Bogle, of Nashville, president of the American Dental Association, was attended by some of the most outstanding specialists in dentistry, each of whom made brief addresses lauding the work of the Georgia society.

Distinguished visitors introduced included Dr. James A. Blue, of Birmingham, authority on X-ray work in dentistry; Dr. Sherman Davis, of Indianapolis, internationally known for his research work on diet and its relation to tooth development; Dr. Justin A. Brady, of Philadelphia, dental economist; Dr. L. Pierce Anthony, editor of Dental Cosmos, and Dr. Carl W. Hoffer, of Nashville.

The entertainment program was featured by vocal selections by Mrs. Phelps Ensign, of Forsyth, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Charles Chalmers, of Atlanta, and by instrumental music.

The new president of the society is one of the most widely known members of his profession in the south. He graduated from the old Atlanta Dental college in 1905, which school was combined in 1917 with the Southern Dental college to form the Atlanta-Southern Dental college.

This city has the distinction of having two former presidents of the American Dental Association, both of whom are on the faculty of the Atlanta-Southern Dental college. They are Dr. Sheppard W. Foster and Dr. Thomas P. Hinman. Dr. Foster is president of the college, while Dr. Hinman is dean of its faculty. Both men are past presidents of the Georgia State Dental Society. Dr. Foster held office in 1920 and Dr. Hinman in 1918.

The concluding day of the 62nd convention of the society was devoted mainly to business affairs during the forenoon, while in the afternoon mem-

N. Y. Mother Finds A Real Weight Builder at Last

If you are tired of being bony, scrawny and weak, read how Mrs. Henry A. Thaler, of Richmond Hill, N. Y., and her daughter gained weight and improved their figures:

"The writer of this letter and my daughter, Viola, have been using McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets for seven weeks, and in that time I have gained 4 pounds and am now full of 'pep' than ever. Viola has gained 3 pounds and she is beginning to get wonderful color in her face."

The reason is that McCoy's is genuine cod liver oil extract tablets. That is the same as saying that like the Norwegian cod liver oil from which they are made, McCoy's are hundreds of times richer in flesh and strength-producing vitamins than even milk, eggs, butter or cream.

So take advantage of Jacobs' Pharmacy offer of the safe, pleasant, easy, inexpensive way to gain the weight and energy you need. McCoy's must give any man, woman or child the increased weight desired or money refunded. Just ask for McCoy's—60 tablets 60 cents.—(adv.)

Mose Dewberry Back In Jail Cell Again

Taken to the state farm by two city detectives on March 20, 1929, escaped last Tuesday, re-arrested again on Thursday by the same two detectives and now being held pending word from the state farm, is the history of Mose Dewberry, 21, of a Cherokee avenue address, for the past year.

City Detectives Leonard Satterfield and George Barrett, of the auto theft squad, arrested Dewberry in 1929 and he was sentenced to serve two years at the penal institution on a charge of stealing an automobile.

Thursday afternoon the two officers were driving down Butler street when they were passed by a car driven by young Dewberry.

According to the officers, the car in which he was apprehended Thursday is alleged to be the property of T. H. Steyers, of 367 Forrest avenue, and to have been stolen from the corner of Butler street and Forrest avenue Wednesday.

New Quizzes To Test Use of Knowledge

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(P)—Little Johnny and Sue of the next generation may find more fun than worry in their examinations in school.

Charles R. Mann, director of the American Council on Education, announced today receipt of a $500,000 grant from the general education board for 10 years' support of the council's research on objective tests.

These tests are designed to reveal how well boys and girls can use their knowledge; and are intended to supplant examinations of the type to show what the student knows.

"When such objective tests of achievement are available," Mr. Mann said, "schools will be able to promote students on a basis of proficiency rather than on the present basis of time credits."

LAST DAY RUSH LOOMS ON STATE INCOME TAX

Larger Corporations Await Closing Hours To Make Income Tax Returns.

Ninety per cent of the larger corporations of the state are expected to file their statutory income tax returns for the last quarter of 1929 between now and Monday, R. C. Norman, state tax commissioner, said Thursday.

The bulk of the larger tax payers of the state, he said, have held back their payments until the closing days. Today, Saturday and Monday will witness the largest volume of business yet transacted by his department in its income tax work.

The total payments of tax to date were estimated at $100,000 by Mr. Norman. He explained that the figure was not indicative of the final total for the last quarter of 1929, because so many of the largest taxpayers have not yet filed their returns.

Even Monday, when the time for payment has expired, the figure will not be complete, he said. The law allows those corporations which, under the federal law file their returns and make their tax payments according to their fiscal years, to do the same thing with the state tax. For that reason, he said, tax payments from corporations will be coming into his office through the entire year.

The department, in preparation for the rush of business in the last few days, had sent representatives into several sections of the state. They are at Rome, Brunswick, Waycross, Savannah, Macon, Columbus and Augusta, and may be found at the courthouses of the respective cities in which the towns are located.

In addition, blank forms for making returns may be secured from the collectors of all counties, and from state banks.

L. Hunter and Mrs. C. S. Crutchfield. The Rev. Lee Cutts, pastor of Capitol View Baptist church, will deliver the memorial sermon.

Time Is Extended On Decatur Taxes

MACON YOUTH HELD FOR ILLEGAL VOTING

MACON, Ga., June 12.—(P)—Roy Graham, Macon youth, second person to be arrested in connection with a grand jury investigation of Macon's recent $1,000,000 bond election, was placed in jail here Thursday charged with illegal voting. Bond was set at $3,500.

The first arrest, made last Saturday, was that of E. L. Vann, former Macon policeman, taken into custody on a similar charge. Vann has been released under bond.

Both men, it was learned, are alleged to have failed to answer subpoenas to appear before the grand jury investigating the election.

Officers said Graham had voted at least seven times in three of the city's political divisions.

Three Are Jailed On Arson Charge

COLUMBUS, Ga., June 12.—(P)—Two men and a woman were in jail here under $2,000 bond each on charges of arson. They are alleged to have tried to burn a residence to collect $500 insurance.

The three held are Mrs. Viola Clemmons, Hugh J. Watson and P. L. (Bill) Green. Firemen extinguished the blaze before the house was badly damaged.

LARGE LUMBER PLANT DESTROYED BY FIRE

MILLEN, Ga., June 12.—(P)—The Turner Lumber Company, the largest in Jenkins county, and owned by W. R. Turner, was destroyed by fire here Thursday afternoon. The loss was estimated at more than $125,000.

The flames broke out in the dry kiln of the plant around noon and rapidly spread to the sawmill engine room, lumber sheds, trucks and the office of the concern. The entire male population of the town responded to the alarm and aided in the effort to check the flames, which for a while threatened other property.

The equipment of the local fire department was insufficient to combat the fire. A call was sent to Waynesboro, in Burke county, and that city sent its fire apparatus manned by 40 men, who aided in saving several hardwood sheds and numbers of piles of lumber stacked in the yard.

The heat from the blaze was intense and numbers of the fire fighters were overcome by the smoke. The flames were not brought under control until about four hours after the alarm was first sounded.

Sixty workmen were employed at the plant.

Other items in the will give Mrs. Jessie Gunby Williams a paid up life insurance policy, and provides for a trust fund for Oscar S. Jordan, a brother, the fund to revert to R. Curtis Jordan at the death of the beneficiary.

Item four provides for an annual income for Mrs. Martha W. Curtis, widow of N. N. Curtis, who is also left $5,000 in fee simple, the trust fund to revert to R. C. Jordan at her death. The amount of the trust fund is not stated.

Item five creates a trust fund of $50,000 each to four grandchildren, G. Gunby Jordan II, Ralph Curtis Jordan, Jr., Ralph Mullford Jordan and Louise Virginia Jordan, to be managed by the Columbus Bank and Trust Company, such proceeds as may be necessary to be expended for their education and turned over to them in fee simple at the age of 21 years.

Item seven bequeaths to R. Curtis Jordan all residue of the estate of the deceased, except as otherwise provided, of every kind and character, real, personal and mixed in fee simple. No estimates of its value is made nor is it itemized.

Item eight of the will provides for an unpretentious granite monument over the grave of the deceased and item nine names R. Curtis Jordan and the Columbus Bank and Trust Company as executors, without the necessity of any court order, bond or the usual administration and advertising. The will is dated April 16, 1927, and is witnessed by H. H. Swift, J. J. Pease and James A. Lewis.

Georgia's Initial Drainage Project Shown Heathcade

BY W. J. DAVIS, Associated Press Staff Writer. MOULTRIE, Ga., June 12.—(P)—Members of the first Georgia healthcade Thursday afternoon were shown the initial drainage project attempted in the state for the control of the malaria mosquito.

So successful has been malaria work in Colquitt county that only 23 cases have been reported this year, said Dr. T. H. Chesnut, health commissioner. Dr. Chesnut considers this an unusually low record since the malaria malarious are present in Colquitt county's record for communicable diseases is the lowest in the state, according to records in office of the state board of health.

W. C. Voren, member of the state highway board and banker, said citizens of this county are "sold" on the Ellis health law.

The healthcade observed sanitation methods in some of Colquitt county's leading industries, including dairies. Before coming to Moultrie the healthcade was shown work of the health unit in Thomas county, where little malaria, infection was reported.

Thomasville is said to be entirely free from malaria through elimination of all breeding places. Health Commissioner Jenkins said worth while results in malaria control had been obtained in correction of defects in school children.

Dr. Jenkins said work done in Thomas county up to 1930 had been largely educational. He said 56,244 anti-malarial injections had been given by his unit and that 10,341 children had been treated to prevent diphtheria. There have been about 1,500 hookworm treatments in the county, he said.

"Hookworm is our greatest problem," he said. "Marvelous results have been obtained through intensive treatments in reducing the number of cases, but a recent survey showed 48

CLEVE COOPER HEADS COUNTY OFFICERS

THOMASVILLE, Ga., June 12.—(P)—The delegates attending the two-day convention of the County Officers' Association of Georgia, which opened here today, voted this afternoon to hold the 1931 convention in Macon. The convention will be held at the same time the Peace Officers' Association meeting is held and a resolution was adopted urging a closer affiliation between the two organizations.

Cleve Cooper, clerk of the superior court of Baldwin county, was elected president; William G. Lastering, Lowndes county, former president, vice president; Emmet Quinn, Atlanta, secretary, and J. H. Lastering, Oconee county, chairman of the county advisory board. The convention adopted a resolution offered by Louis A. Moore, of Thomasville, favoring tax reform in the state, offering the assistance of the associations and its individual members in the solutions of tax problems and calling for the appointment of a committee of nine association members to gather, receive and submit information and data on the subject of taxation and report the result of their labors to the convention in Macon next year.

Candidates for state officers were here today and they were introduced to the convention by Judge Roscoe Luke, member of the Georgia court of appeals. Among the candidates were gubernatorial aspirants, John Holder, Ed Rivers, Dick Russell; candidates for secretary of state, Louis S. Moore and Judge Flynn; Judge Nash Broyles, candidate for member of the court of appeals; Eugene Talmadge and J. J. Brown, candidates for commissioner of agriculture.

President W. H. Gardner, of Oglethorpe, called the convention to order. About 20 delegates responded to the roll call. Mayor Roy Hay made the welcoming address, to which Emmet Quinn, of Atlanta, responded.

President Gardner introduced Commissioner of Agriculture Eugene Talmadge, who spoke, taking the place

MACON, Ga., June 12.—(P)—The Joseph N. Neel post of the American Legion went "over the top" today in a drive for its quota of 500 members, and claims to have been the only post in the state to reach the quota. A total of 503 members was obtained, it was announced by Captain S. D. Bellinger, adjutant of the post.

WOMAN IS SHOT BY FARM TENANT

ROME, Ga., June 12.—(P)—Mrs. J. A. Freeman, 40, was shot by Joe Alred, a tenant on her farm near here today and is in a critical condition.

Alred fled after shooting and has escaped arrest. Alred had been living on the farm for only two weeks and the trouble is said to have been caused by his children turning out the stock.

The shooting occurred in the yard at the Freeman home.

TIMBER ACREAGE CASE DISMISSED BY BARRETT

WAYCROSS, Ga., June 12.—The case of Lydia Norman vs. Harry Dushoff, et al., involving extensive timber acreage in Brantley county, was dismissed in United States court, which closed here today, the order being signed by Judge W. H. Barrett.

The principals in the case are residents of Chicago and the case has been hanging fire in federal court here for several years.

on the program of G. Ed Maddox, of Rome, who was unable to be present. The convention today went on record as favoring sale of automobile license tags in the counties by sheriffs. Another resolution urged a state fingerprinting law. Other resolutions advocated higher clerks' fees in divorce cases and more money for the state hospital to prevent the necessity of confining insane persons in jails.

PRAWN TO BE SUBJECT OF SURVEY OF STATE

BRUNSWICK, Ga., June 12.—(P)—A survey of the prawn and its habits is in prospect following a hearing here Thursday before the Georgia fish and game commission on the little shrimps' way of living.

Commercial fishermen who catch prawn for a livelihood and sport fishermen who say prawn fishing kills game fish agreed to the survey and offered their co-operation.

All members of the commission were present at the hearing and heard the shrimp praised and condemned. Commercial fishermen said trawls nets had not depleted the supply of game fish in the inland channels as the sportsmen contended, but blamed scarcity of game fish on depletion of oyster beds. Such beds are natural feeding and hiding places for game fish, they said.

They quoted figures showing value of the prawn industry to Georgia and said a closed season of shrimp would force every prawn factory in the state to close.

The sportsmen argued that the commercial fishermen killed millions of little game fish in their trawl nets, cast for prawn. They said a closed season should be declared on prawn to give game fish an opportunity to replenish.

The commission took all suggestions under advisement and then went to Savannah for a similar hearing.

VICTIMS OF CRASH BURIED IN MACON

MACON, Ga., June 12.—(P)—Because it was impossible to handle the crowd that gathered for the double funeral of R. L. Mingleford, Jr., 18, and Miss Mary Fosse, his 16-year-old sweetheart, who were killed in a motorcycle accident here Tuesday night, it was found necessary to move the bodies to Riverside cemetery where an open air service was held at 6 o'clock Thursday night.

Dedicate Wardlaw Hospital At Boy Scout Camp Saturday

Hospital at Bert Adams Camp Is Memorial to Platt C. Wardlaw.

A new chapter will be written in the history of Boy Scout activities in the Atlanta council Saturday afternoon when more than a thousand Scouts, accompanied by many distinguished Atlantans, journey to the Bert Adams Scout camp near Vinings where dedication exercises will be held for the Platt C. Wardlaw Memorial hospital, donated to the organization by W. C. Wardlaw in memory of his son.

As part of the program of dedication local Boy Scouts will gather to enjoy the two afternoon periods of swimming in the new swimming pool, which will be followed by a large barbecue tendered to Scouts, their parents and friends by Harrison Jones, of the Atlanta Coca-Cola Company.

WILLIAM C. WARDLAW.

Hal C. Hents, president of the Atlanta Council of Boy Scouts of America, will preside during the dedication ceremonies, and will introduce the donor, Mr. Wardlaw, who will make the presentation address. Tom Moore, past president of the council, will accept the hospital on behalf of the local organization.

The new building is located on the crest of a gently sloping hill overlooking the swimming pool. It will house a fully equipped consultation room and a ward with four beds. The purpose of the hospital is to provide first aid treatment for any emergency at the camp, and to furnish a comfortable and accessible place for occasional cases where isolation is necessary.

The gift, which is the largest single donation ever given to the Scout movement in Atlanta, will increase the safety of the camp and make it one of the best equipped in the country. It already has been stated by visiting Scout officials from New York that the camp's waterworks, sanitation and chlorination plant for the swimming pool are equal to the best in the United States.

Arrangements for the barbecue have been made to amply take care of the large crowds expected to attend the dedication exercises. The camp may be reached by automobile over Pace's Ferry road to Vinings. Motorists should cross the railroad at Vinings and continue on the road for about one-half mile to the Scout camp signs, then turn to the right for approximately one-quarter mile into the camp. The barbecue will begin at 4 o'clock.

Theft of Ham Brings Negro 20-Year Term

Pleading guilty to a charge of stealing a ham from A. P. Rickett, on Flat Shoals road, cost Oscar Josie, alias Roy Smith, negro, 20 years on the chain gang Thursday when he was arraigned before Judge John Hutcheson in the DeKalb county superior court.

Until the time the negro appeared in court he had maintained that his name was Smith. However, he confessed to the judge that his real name was Oscar Josie and that he had escaped from the Upson county chain gang where he had served a year of a five-year sentence for a similar offense. As this was his second offense, Judge Hutcheson imposed the maximum sentence—20 years.

Friday, Thirteenth, Fine Day To Launch Dangerous Career

SUGGESTIONS TO TEMPT GOD OF ILL-LUCK

BY W. O. KEY, JR.

If, young man—or woman—you have decided to follow the advice of the savant who told a graduating class hereabouts recently to live dangerously, today is the day to launch your career of peril. It's Friday the thirteenth, and which there is no 24 hours, than which in point of getting off on the wrong foot.

After you have made up your mind to begin such a life of danger, perhaps you find yourself balked for an idea of just how to start the ball rolling. Seeking individuality of action, of course, you will avoid such commonplace temptations as walking under ladders or breaking mirrors. They used to get you somewhere, they say, but today they're what the French quaintly term passe.

Just as a starter, it is suggested that a career of danger might easily be taken up with any one of the following ideas, which, if used correctly, should get results:

Why not drag your best friend aside and, in a serious whisper, say: "Looky here, Jim, you're a good scout an' all that, but son, you've got halitosis—or B. O."

Or tell a traffic cop to go fry an egg!

If you oversleep and are late to work, don't have an excuse. Just ask the boss for a raise; and if he snorts, tell him he's a half-baked cabbage, anyway.

Why not try driving through downtown traffic with your eyes closed? One guy did it blindfolded not long ago—and got away with it. You might.

If you can find a tall office building where they're hoisting a two-ton safe, hang around—the cable might break.

And if the wife asks where the blond hair on your lapel came from

—be nonchalant. Roll a cigaret and murmur: "Who can tell?"

The above are just a few ideas taken at random. Try some yourself. You have no idea how easily they'll work out on Friday the thirteenth.

Jury Tampering Probe Continued

The Fulton county grand jury's probe of alleged jury tampering in connection with graft trials continued Thursday with Solicitor-General John A. Boykin in charge. The grand jurors will meet again today, with routine business on the program. A large number of witnesses were examined during Thursday. There were no indictments returned as the result of the meeting, but it is expected that new true bills will be found in the jury tampering investigation during the next few days.

Solicitor-General Boykin has been devoting his entire time to the grand jury this week. Court trials are being handled by his assistants.

PROGRESS

THE framework of the great new First National Bank Building rises above the teeming activities that surge to and fro about Five Points, the thought that is voiced by towering steel and stone is one characteristic not only of this institution's whole history, but of the city and section it serves as well...

A message of progress—of growth, advancement, expansion—of broad and vital significance to Atlanta, to Georgia, and to the Southeast.

For here, in one glance, is given a striking picture of Atlanta's increasingly important position as one of the nation's great financial centers—of the Southeast's amazing strides in agriculture, commerce, industry, finance—as well as of The First National Bank's impressive and ever larger facilities for promoting Southern progress.

New England Telephone Sags to New Low for Year

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER, Associated Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP)—Curb stock fluctuated nervously and indecisively in active trading today. Closing prices were irregularly lower, but losses were largely limited to a point or two, and closing prices were substantially above the lowest levels of the day. Total sales were close to 2,000,000 shares.

The market was highly professional, and on the whole followed the pattern of trading on the big board. Heavy selling appeared in the morning, in continuation of yesterday's liquidation, and shares of shares were depressed to new low levels, but the selling dried up around midday, and irregular recovery was promoted by short covering during the afternoon.

Electric Bonds and Shares sold off about 4 points, and regained 3 points. American Gas declined 3 points and regained most of its loss. American Superpower was an active feature, but closed about unchanged. Light Air lost about 2 points. New England Telephone lost 1-2 points to 144, the year's low. In

Devastation of War Bared in "All Quiet"

The devastation of war is bared to the bones in "All Quiet on the Western Front," great German war drama now being presented at the Erlanger theater. The psychological impact of the war on the young men who went into service under the stimulating influence of patriotic fervor and had their souls hardened by their experiences in combat with no tender human feelings left in them is the picture.

The picture is profoundly moving, a revealing drama that must become a powerful force in the hearts of the people. It is a picture that must burn itself into the consciousness of humanity.

Louis Wolheim offers a magnificent interpretation of Katsenky and Lewis Ayres is just as good in the role of Paul Baumer, student leader. John Wray is Himmelstoss and Russell Gleason is Muller.

Miss Moody and Ernest Mitchell Wed at Church in Hapeville, Ga.

HAPEVILLE, Ga., June 12.—The marriage of Miss Ina Ella Moody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Moody, and Ernest Taylor Mitchell, son of M. Reesa Gibbs, both of Hapeville, was brilliantly solemnized last evening at the Hapeville Methodist church. Rev. W. M. Twigg performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives.

The church was artistically decorated with quantities of palms which were banked around the choir loft. On either side of the altar were large vases of flowers and four seven-branched candelabra tied with showers of white satin ribbon. The pews marking the seats of the relatives and close friends were marked with bows of white satin ribbon. The church was lighted only by candlelight. Three branched candelabra were placed at intervals along the aisles.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. James E. Cagle, of Atlanta, and Miss Louretta Barton, of Hapeville. Mrs. Cagle played the "Bridal Chorus," by Mendelssohn, as the processionals, and "Hearts and Flowers" was played as the recessional. During the ceremony "Oh Promise Me" and "Hearts and Flowers" was softly played and preceding the ceremony Miss Louretta Barton sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Frank Mitchell, brother of the groom, and Pete Busha, of College Park, cousin of the groom, entered first and lighted the candles on the altar. Miss Elizabeth Woodward, of Hapeville, and Miss Irene Dickson, of Fayetteville, cousin of the groom, bridesmaids wore dresses of chiffon made with a low "U" back, with a small cape. Miss Woodward's gown being green, Miss Dickson's pink. They were fitted in at the waist, being made princess style. The skirts were full and reached to the floor. They wore large double shoulder bouquets.

The bridesmaids descended alternate aisles, carrying a long taper with a large draped rose made of the same color as their dresses. After all candles were lighted only candlelight was used.

Lovely Bride.

The bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage, approaching the altar from the left aisle as the two attendants entered down the right aisle. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Julius L. Born, of Atlanta. The bride was radiant in her wedding gown of old ivory satin, made on princess lines with the long skirt and veil forming the train. The panel of the front of the dress was embroidered in tiny seed pearls. The long, tight-fitting sleeves were made into point over the hands. The neck was "U" shaped, trimmed in seed pearls. Her veil was of soft tulle, made up shape caught with a double band of orange blossoms, with sprays of orange blossoms on the side. She carried a large bouquet of white roses and valley lilies with a long shower of bride's ribbon.

The ring-bearer, little Miss Mildred Warren, dressed in a little green chiffon dress, carried a lily bearing the ring. She followed the bride and her father.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Moody entertained at a reception at their home on Oakridge avenue, Hapeville. Receiving the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Moody, the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs and members of the wedding party. Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell left for a short wedding trip. RINSO, MA'AM, THE SUDS ARE SO THICK AND CREAMY, DIRT SOAKS RIGHT OUT WITHOUT A BIT OF SCRUBBING

THAT WILL SAVE ME MUCH MENDING

YES, MA'AM. THE CLOTHES WILL LAST LONGER NOW BECAUSE THEY WON'T BE SCRUBBED THREADBARE

Rinso is economical... great for dishes, too

Not only Southern women—but women all over the country—tell us what a wonderful thrift-soap Rinso is. A little gives lots of thick, lasting suds—twice as much, cup for cup, as those lightweight, puffed-up soaps!

And how much whiter these rich suds wash the clothes! So white—even boiling isn't necessary any more. Soak and rinse—that's all.

And Rinso is marvelous in washers. The makers of 38 famous washing machines recommend it for safety and for whiter washes. Great for dishes, too; loosens grease like magic.

And for general cleaning you'll find Rinso much better than old-fashioned bar soaps. Get the BIG package. Just follow the directions on the back.

Service Star Legion Meets at Mrs. Ragsdale's

Atlanta chapter of Service Star Legion held its June meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. N. Ragsdale in Morningside, with the president, Mrs. H. S. Hastings in the chair. Reports of the work done by the committee on school prizes, under the leadership of Mrs. C. E. Sciple, were given, and plans for carrying on this work for the coming year were made.

Six prizes are given each year to the pupils in the junior high schools of the city and Fulton county for best essays on "Our Flag." Two of these prizes are given by Mrs. Marcus W. Beck, and Mrs. Stanley Moore in memory of their sons who made the supreme sacrifice; three are given by Mrs. W. F. Melton, Mrs. L. P. Rorer and Mrs. H. G. Hastings to honor their sons who were in the service, and one is given by the chapter in loving memory of Mrs. Sam D. Jones.

Plans for the work at Hospital No. 48 were discussed and a committee appointed to arrange and carry on this work. Miss Shera of the American Red Cross was introduced and told of the need for help in caring for several families of disabled World War veterans, which help was immediately voted her.

Plans were made for rendering some attention to the Gold Star Mothers who are making the pilgrimage to the graves of their loved ones in France. It was voted that the chapter write our Georgia delegation in Washington asking them to use their influence to put through the bill now before the house in Washington that the mothers who are unable for physical and other reasons to make the pilgrimage be given the equivalent in money. It was also voted that a letter be sent the Georgia delegation asking their influence to have the Johnson bill passed, which will allow veterans of the World War to file claims for disabilities up to 1939, as against the original 1925 limit. A report from the recent state convention was brought by Mrs. W. F. Melton and recommendations from the state board were adopted.

These recommendations called for the support of the state Service Star Legion scholarship for a child of a disabled veteran, the giving of a medal each year to a high school pupil for citizenship, the support of the Betty Harrison Jones emergency relief fund and carrying on local relief work among the families of the sick and needy ex-service men.

Gordon Singleton was introduced and made an interesting and impressive talk on "Americanism." A social half-hour followed and the hostess Mrs. Ragsdale, introduced her distinguished husband, Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, to the guests.

Mrs. H. Dolhonde,

"Before my last baby was born, I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I got such good results that I named her Catherine Lydia. I have six older children and five grandchildren, too. I am now taking the Vegetable Compound again because of my age. I eat and sleep better and I do all my housework, and my washing. I will do my best to answer letters."

Mrs. Harold Goodnow
36 Cane St.,
Fitchburg, Massachusetts

"I cannot praise my medicine enough. After my baby came I was rundown. I had to go to bed often through the day. I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I felt like a different woman. If any mother has those tired feelings I advise her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. Lloyd R. Blasing,

James Robert Elliott, honor graduate from Emory University this week, left Thursday for Los Angeles, where he speaks on June 19 as the representative of the southeast in the national intercollegiate finals in oratory, conducted by the Better American Federation of California. Young Elliott won the championship of the southeast last month at Asheville over competitors from nine southern states, and now enters the sixth annual national finals, competing with six speakers from other sections. The seven men in the contest are chosen from some 600 entries.

Young Elliott has the distinction of being the only man from Georgia to win place in the national finals, and the only man in this year's finals south of the Mason and Dixon line. As he represents Emory University and the southeast he will speak against representatives from Holy Cross college, of Massachusetts; Fordham University, of New York; DePaul University, of Indiana; St. Xavier college, of Ohio; Augustana college, of South Dakota; and the Oregon State college. Each contestant will deliver an original speech, devoted to discussion of the American constitution. Elliott's subject is "The Constitution of the United States" with its major proposition dealing with the liberties insured to individual citizens under the constitution, and the duties thereby imposed.

While a student at Emory University working his way through, Elliott made a record in oratory, yet has never received a lesson in that art. He won oratorical medals in his sophomore, junior and senior years, as well as the Georgia-Florida championship in oratory in 1928. He is aged 19, is a varsity debater, winner of a number of which were against Princeton debaters. He is a member of Tau Kappa Alpha and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternities. Silver service cups were presented him last year and this by his literary society and fraternity.

Young Elliott's home is at Norcross, Ga.

Home Beautiful Exhibit Arrangements Complete

With all preliminary arrangements in connection with The Atlanta Constitution's Home Beautiful exhibit in Avondale Estates completed, finishing touches will be applied today on the furnishings and decorations, assuring that everything will be in readiness for the opening on Sunday.

Decorators have been busy for the past week studying the possibilities of the two residences that will be in the exhibit and deciding just what styles of furniture and draperies will fit the best with the surroundings.

The actual work of decorating the homes has been under way for several days, and every assurance is given that the work will be completed today. Each house received the most careful attention, and every effort was made to obtain a union of beauty and comfort, harmony being the keynote in each unit.

Furnishings from Rich's, Draperies and furnishings for both houses are being supplied by Rich's, Inc., the work installing them being under the supervision of W. Phillip Brown, interior decorator for the store. Mr. Brown has had with him training and experience in the artistic furnishing and decorating of homes, and it is expected that the effect produced by him in these houses will supply many attractive ideas for those interested in home decoration.

G. F. Willis, developer of Avondale Estates, is a strong believer in Home Beautiful exhibits. He has entered homes in several of the former exhibits sponsored by The Constitution and has found them a great help to the home-builder as well as a stimulus to business.

Both of the homes offered the last word in beauty and convenience. One is located at No. 2 Clarendon place and the other at 32 Dartmouth avenue. The one on Clarendon is a Tudor English style and that on Dartmouth is Spanish in architecture.

The houses are surrounded by a wealth of shrubbery and trees which is one of the outstanding features of Avondale. The entire suburb has been landscaped, and with its 30 acres of parks and playgrounds, wide streets, and beautiful houses, presents a most pleasing appearance.

Great enthusiasm is manifested by the merchants and business establishments co-operating with The Constitution in staging the exhibit, especially by those who have participated in similar events in past years and know what a stimulus these exhibits have been to all businesses engaged in providing beauty and comfort for the home.

The list of merchants who are co-operating with The Constitution in sponsoring the exhibit this year is now being prepared, and announcement as to what each is doing will be made Sunday, the opening day of the event.

Treasurer Speer Returns to Office

State Treasurer William J. Speer returned to his office at the state capitol Thursday after an absence of several months, caused by illness. Mr. Speer said he had regained his health, and expressed pleasure at being able to resume his duties.

A warrant for $50,000 was issued to the state sanitarium in Milledgeville, it was announced from the treasurer's office, the money representing a part of the 1930 appropriation.

Capone Wine Party Described by Witness

MILAMI, Fla., June 12.—(UN)—Al Capone, dressed in green suit, tie, pocket handkerchief and socks, with the usual diamonds and cud of gum, laughed with the court crowd today when a state witness described intoxicating drinks served in the Capone home here as "wine."

The witness, Roddy B. B. Burdine, held the spotlight today in the state's attempt to padlock Capone's expensive Palm Island residence at Miami Beach, charging it is a "public nuisance" harboring criminals, gangsters, intoxicating liquor and tends to destroy real estate values in the area. Burdine testified he called at the Capone residence to get a subscription for the Community Chest. Capone gave $1,000, Burdine said, but the sum later was returned.

The witness said he was invited to breakfast, which proved to be a drinking party attended by 40 men, many of whom appeared foreign and not friendly. He said the kitchen sink was full of Scotch and champagne bottles and some guests were drunk.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

A QUEER USE FOR A TAIL. BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

For everything there's some excuse; it must have had or has a use. —Old Mother Nature.

Whenever Peter Rabbit was over near the Smiling Pool he watched out for Starnose the Mole, the little fur-coated chap who lived underground and had such a funny little nose. Once

"How can a tail be in front of you when it is behind you?" demanded Peter.

Starnose chuckled his squeaky little chuckle. "Well," said he, "when I am backing up in a hurry, running backward in one of my little tunnels, my tail is ahead in the direction I am going, isn't it?"

"I suppose so," said Peter somewhat doubtfully.

"Of course it is!" declared Starnose. "It is a sort of feeler, to tell me that the way is clear. Otherwise, when I am running backward I might run into trouble."

"I don't see what you want to run backward for anyway," said Peter.

"Because," replied Starnose, "it is the only way I can get back. There isn't room to run around in one of my tunnels. I've either got to keep digging or else back up until I reach

"How do you do, Starnose?" said he. "Just about as usual; just about as usual," squeaked Starnose rather impatiently.

"If you please," said Peter, "I wish you would tell me what use you have for a tail."

"Just as much use as you have for one and probably more," squeaked Starnose. "For my part, I don't see what use you have for your tail. Now, I use my tail. I use it every day of my life. I use it the same way as my cousin, Miner the Common Mole, uses his."

"I didn't know that he did use his," replied Peter. "If you say he does, I suppose he does; but I didn't know it. How does he use it?"

"In the same way that I use mine," squeaked Starnose with a throaty little chuckle at his own joke.

"But that doesn't tell me anything," persisted Peter. "Do you really and truly use your tail?"

"Of course I use it!" responded Starnose.

Crackers Break Even in Double-Header Here With Travelers

SHARKEY THREW FIGHT AWAY, RICE SAYS

CRACKERS SPLIT WITH TRAVELERS IN DOUBLE BILL

Little Rock Wins First Game, 9-3, and Dobbsonmen Take Last, 4-2.

By Ralph McGill.

Working on the theory that half a loaf is better than none the Atlanta Crackers divided a double-header with the hitting fools from Little Rock, the scores being 9-3 and 4-2, to the Crackers taking the final.

Joe Kiefer was routed in the first and John Dobbson stuck Hugh Starling, the cap and gown pitcher, in there to finish up.

Starling was as nervous as that time in school when he was called before the dean. He fiddled around and did not find himself for a couple of innings.

REAL PITCHING.

And then that boy began to pitch baseball according to Hoyle. He pitched five innings with only 10 men facing him. Only one of them got a hit, that a scratch single through short.

His pitching was a bright spot and John Dobbson kept him in there despite the protests of some of the grandstand managers who wanted him taken out. And in the end John Dobbson had the laugh just as he did in the Eddie Brown case.

"Yanking a young pitcher every time he gets hit hard ruins him," said Dobbson. "Starling needed just such a game. They hit him for two innings and then he pitched baseball as he is able to."

CHARLIE ILL.

Roy Carlyle, really too ill to be playing, did not look good in the field. A ball hit by Eddie Rose went for a home run with a man on base to mark Starling's early pitching. Had Carlyle been well he would perhaps have caught it. "I can't hardly see the ball I am so sick," he told Dobbson, "but I'll try to keep going."

Little Rock's crowd, however, and they can really hit, were off to a quick lead and couldn't be headed. Joe Kiefer was not at all right. In one and a third innings he had given up four runs and six hits.

Harry Strohm played one of the greatest defensive games seen at Spiller field in some time. The Traveler third-sacker hit well in addition to his fielding. He was quite a factor in winning the first game.

ONE INNING.

The Crackers had just one inning, triples by Jack Sheehan and Roy Grimes, together with a single by Rosenblatt, gave two runs.

In the ninth Polvogt slapped one Continued on Fourth Sport Page.

NEW YORK, June 12.—"Pa" Stribling and his pugilistic offspring came in this morning from Chicago to look over Sharkey and Schmeling, either or both of whom are possible opponents.

W. L. learned plenty about Sharkey's style some time ago at Miami Beach, but he has never seen the German in action.

Stribling has been in training in Chicago for a fight June 18 with Otto Von Porat and he is taking the fight more seriously than any engagement since he fought Sharkey in 1929.

Mike Maurer, the Teutonic heavyweight whom "Pa" brought back in captivity from Europe, has been working out with W. L. and on their last practice rounds drew a capacity house at 25 cents a head.

The Teuton is scouting right hands at Stribling's chin for exercise. This is what Otto Von Porat can do better than any man in the ring today unless it be Schmeling.

"PA" HAS A WORRIED LOOK.

"Pa" wears a horrid look. It cannot be over financial prospects, for Nat Lewis, the Chicago matchmaker, who also is here, predicts a sell-out on the basis of the heaviest advance sale in Chicago history.

I think the little pudgy man from Macon is genuinely concerned over the sort of shelling W. L. will have to take from Von Porat.

The alien is a vastly improved fighter, "Pa" has learned through his confidential operatives, and will give W. L. the toughest fight he has had since the Sharkey affair.

ROBINS INTERESTING OUTFIT.

This spanking, spinning team that Uncle Wilbert Robinson is driving along in Brooklyn undoubtedly is the most interesting outfit in the National league.

The way they win games is a caution. They win with a flare and a flourish that always mark a real champion.

Take that game Wednesday they won from the Cincinnati Reds. It is a fair example of how the Robins are bouncing over the opposition with ease and grace.

First, Old Man Dazzy Vance pitched great baseball for the first seven innings and the great man was given inspired support.

Once Rube Bressler raced over to the bleacher wall and, twisting his arm around like an Egyptian dancer, speared a certain home run.

Then in the seventh Babe Herman made as fine a catch as any outfielder ever made when he raced across the field like an antelope and speared an extra base hit that would have scored a runner.

Finally the Reds managed to drive one runner around to tie the score in the eighth. Then Al Lopez, the kid from Macon and Spiller field, batted for Vance in the ninth and drove "the winning run."

CRACKERS WELL REPRESENTED.

Note that the four heroes were once served Southern leaguers and three of them formerly were Cracker livers. That is a part of what the Crackers gave to the Flatbush cause.

Uncle Robby is having the time of his life watching his ancient relic, Adolfo Luque, the sad-eyed Cuban, pitch that baseball.

"It is Luque's control that makes him a great pitcher," the Sage of Flatbush says. "He has no great amount of stuff, but he just never gives them a good ball to hit. High or low, inside or outside, he always is out there crossing up the best hitters in the league. He knows their weakness. He has a remarkable memory for them and never gives them a ball they like. When they get hits it means they have hit a bad one."

The Cuban had a poor year last season with the Reds, and when Uncle Robby traded for him the other managers smiled. But he has been pitching with his head, tricking batters into trying to outguess him and then fooling them.

He hurt his thumb in the first game he worked; he was out for two weeks; then came back in better shape than ever. His last start was a revelation of what a smart pitcher can do with the ball they say is lively.

SHARKEY BLEW GREAT CHANCE, DANFORTH SAYS

Gob Had Million-Dollar Crown in Grasp in Gotham Bout.

By Ed Danforth.

amid the excited cheering. He lowered his hands and bit his lip. His handlers surrounded him and after Schmeling had been assisted from the platform, Sharkey, moving in a daze, was escorted into the shelter of the darkness.

The miraculous phase of the regrettable climax to the great international bout was that Jack Sharkey, apparently fighting a cool, methodical, sophisticated battle, had the million-dollar crown within his grasp.

How Sharkey could have been so careless or so excited as to lose it away with such a palpable foul constitutes the miracle. How any man who has been fighting in major events for as many years as Sharkey has could have learned so little as to lose his head or his sense of distance so completely is miraculous. It simply means that Jack Sharkey was never meant to be a champion.

"BEST YET."

The foul blow could not possibly have been mislaid. "It was the best foul ever landed in New York," declared a facetious pressman just behind me. The foul may be best understood by describing the events leading up to the tragedy.

The men came up for the fourth round with Schmeling still showing red splashes on cheek and stomach from a terrific pummeling from Sharkey's gloves in the preceding round. Sharkey had shelled the invader with precision and deliberation. He seemed merely hiding his time to make the kill in this same fourth round.

But the Black Uhlans was made of sterner stuff. The spirit of those divisions that walked stolidly in close-packed, green-clad ranks into the muzzles of spitting machine guns burned within him. While Sharkey backed away and maneuvered for an opening, flicking out his left tentatively to find the range, "the man-who-looks-like-Dempsey" kept boring in like Dempsey toward his enemy.

Max missed a left and Jack countered with a left to the head, a cruel jolt. The German never flinched. He began bobbing and weaving, not unlike the old Mauler himself, his left leg of reach of that thudding left of Sharkey's.

MAX LANDS.

Suddenly, as the blowing out of a tire, Schmeling flinched with his left ever so slightly and drove that right fist home. It landed hard on a surprised Sharkey. It stung. Sharkey's face showed surprise and pain and bewilderment.

Sharkey backed away, then closed safely and made a right uppercut almost at the German's jaw. Schmeling faded to the right and shot a left to Sharkey's head. Sharkey, thoroughly alarmed, countered with a fierce right but the Uhlans shook his head and kept relentlessly coming in. Jack was backing away slowly.

Then as they receded toward the side of the ring almost on top of Harold Barnes, one of the judges, Sharkey started a left hook for Schmeling's body. The blow was started low. It landed even lower. It landed with a perceptible thud.

Max dropped to one knee in front of Judge Barnes, making no outcry but holding himself just above the protector that boxers wear. His face seemed paralyzed and he sagged to a sitting position.

REFEREE BEHIND.

Referee Crowley, a little man, was behind the fighters at the moment of the blow and probably could not have seen it. He rushed in and waved Sharkey to his corner. The going sounded then and Schmeling's seconds rushed in to assist him to rise.

While voluble handlers of both men were pressing their cases in his ears, Referee Crowley made repeated trips across the ring and back to talk with the judges.

The other judge was Charles F. Mathieson, who probably has no clear view of it. While the debate over the foul was at a peak, the bell rang for the fifth round. Sharkey rushed out to his corner and charged toward Schmeling's corner, but was restrained by Referee Crowley.

William Carey, manager official of Madison Square Garden, was sitting in a ringside seat biting his lips, eyes downcast. He had seen it. Arthur Brisbane arose and turned toward the ring.

Dempsey Sorry Foul Ended Bout

LOS ANGELES, Cal. June 12. (UN)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world, expressed his regret when informed tonight that the fight between Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey ended with the American decision a foul.

"I certainly am sorry to hear about that sort of an ending," Dempsey told the United Press. "I have hoped the bout would go a few more rounds and that a decision—preferably a knockout—would be reached."

The result as yet has not affected Dempsey's attitude toward returning to the ring for another battle, he said.

"I have no plans at present except to be around for a couple of months while the scar of my recent operation for an abscess on my back heals completely," he said. "Then I might take up a bit of light training. I don't feel I would be ready for a fight for at least a year—in fact I rather doubt if I ever will fight again. It's still up in the air."

New World's Champion

'IT WAS A FOUL,' TUNNEY STATES

Former Champion Says He Saw Blow on Way To Foul Region.

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP)—Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion, said Jack Sharkey palpably fouled Max Schmeling, unintentionally, but nevertheless unmistakably.

"It was a foul," said Tunney a few minutes after Schmeling had been carried from the ring.

"It is unfortunate, very unfortunate, for clearly the finalists, twice champions, were in a very close fight. It was not intentional, but it was obviously a foul."

"It was a blow that will cause excruciating pain and there is no doubt in my mind that Schmeling was incapacitated."

"Will Schmeling's name be placed on the Tunney-Mulvey trophy?" the self-deposed heavyweight king was asked.

"I can't say as to that and I would not like to venture even an opinion at this time," was the reply. "You know I am not the person to say who shall be declared the champion and perhaps I should not give even an idea of what I think."

"Did you see the foul coming?" Tunney was asked.

"I did. I am quite familiar with the punch," he said. "I saw it coming. It was not timed exactly right but it will result in a very damaging blow."

He added that he had enjoyed the bout immensely until the unsatisfactory conclusion.

"It is much more comfortable out here than in the ring," he said with a smile.

Jack Mooney Wins Way to Semi-Finals

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 12.—(AP)—Jack Mooney, twice a winner of the state title, and Gus Feuer, of Miami, reached the semi-final round of the men's singles in the fifth annual South Carolina tennis tournament on the courts of the Charleston Country Club today.

The Georgian and Floridian joined Wilmer Hines, Columbia, and Jack Beckman, Charleston, in the round before the final. The latter pair had gained their brackets on Wednesday.

Mooney, who today defeated Ralph Demott, also of Atlanta, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, will play Beckman tomorrow or Feuer will meet Hines, the winners to compete for the singles championship Saturday. Feuer beat Lenoir Wright, of Charlotte, N. C., 6-3, 6-1.

Confusion Ruled Ring As Max Won Crown

By Westbrook Pegler.
(Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune.)

NEW YORK, June 12.—(Special).—Jack Sharkey fouled Max Schmeling in the fourth round of their prize fight for the heavyweight championship of the world this evening and Schmeling was awarded the victory and championship on this ground. They had their battle in the Yankee stadium with about 70,000 customers present and more than $740,000 of the customers' money in the vaults.

Sharkey was far ahead of Schmeling at the time the fight ended, having punched him into a dazed condition in the first minute of round three, when Schmeling had to go deep into his reserve strength for the stamina to keep going. The concluding punch, a left to the body, was delivered as Sharkey leaped at his man close to the ropes. There was a quick muffled drum of gloves. Both of Sharkey's fists hammered the body, a right hand landing close to the line of Schmeling's trunks. Then, unseen by most of the crowd, unseen by one of the judges and apparently unscathed by the referee, Charlie Crowley, a left hand ripped in low and Schmeling flopped to the canvas in a little puff of resin dust, his dark features wrenched in an expression of agony and one hand clawing at his abdomen as if he had stopped a agony.

Crowley, the referee, ignoring Schmeling's mute show of complaint, turned to the knockdown timer who had risen at the margin of the ring and was banging on the deck with his bung starter. Crowley again faced about and he didn't disqualify Sharkey, but neither did he pick up and repeat the count.

ROUND ENDS.
When the timer had rapped five times the bell rang, ending the fourth round, and Schmeling's seconds, wearing sweaters in the orange and black of the German flag, went tumbling through the ropes in a wild dash to pick up their man. Joey Jacobs, Schmeling's manager; Max Machon, his trainer, and Doc Casey, his third, grabbed him up and hauled him to his corner, although he was able to use his legs.

Crowley still made no decision of foul, but walked across the ring to consult Charlie Mathieson, one of the judges. Mathieson said he hadn't seen the punch. Meantime, the intermission was speeding and the fight, officially, was still on. Sharkey sat in his corner, awaiting the next bell, strangely quiet for so erratic a man. Crowley then appealed to Harold Barnes, the other judge who had been sitting just under the fighters as they came along the ropes on his side of the 1st ring.

PUNCH LOW.
"The punch was low," Barnes said and just as the bell rang for the fifth round Crowley walked to Schmeling's corner, apparently still with no definite opinion.

At the bell Sharkey jumped from his corner, rushed half way to Schmeling's corner and stopped as Joey Jacobs raged along the ropes, screaming at the press row and calling upon the world to witness that his fighter had been foully dealt with and looked to be a great fight.

THE CLIMAX.
With about ten seconds to go in the fourth round they both swung over against the ropes. Schmeling's back was to me with Sharkey crowding in. Then Schmeling started a charge as Sharkey started a left uppercut for the body. The German came in faster than Sharkey could

SCOTT AVENGED AS SCHMELING WINS ON FOUL

Ending Typical of Fight Game Today—Max Never Ahead.

By Grantland Rice.
(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, June 12.—Europe at last can claim that it is avenged, if Europe has any interest in the murky fate of Phil Scott. For Max Schmeling, the Black Uhlans of the Rhine, the German challenger, rode into the heavyweight championship ring this world tonight on a low punch as the fourth round came to a close.

'I Warned Sharkey About Foul in Second Round,' Schmeling Says

MAX WILLING TO GIVE JACK RETURN MATCH

German Sorry Fight Ended in Foul—Sharkey Cries Like Baby.

By George Kirksey.

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, June 12.—(U.N.) "I'll give him a return match," said Max Schmeling as he lay quietly on a slab back in his dressing room after the fight, holding the left side of his hip.

"I didn't want to win that way," continued Max. "But I warned him in the second round when he hit me close to the boundary line. I said to him 'watch out Jack, you better keep 'em up.'"

Crying like a baby, Jack Sharkey was broken hearted, in his dressing room he said: "It's not any use to tell me not to get excited. Why wouldn't I get excited when they take the heavyweight championship right away when I should have won by a knockout?"

HIT, DOCTOR SAYS.

After examining Schmeling, Dr. William H. Walker, New York State Athletic Commission physician, said:

"There is a distinct spasm of the left side of Schmeling's scrotum, indicating a recent trauma or blow. Schmeling could not produce this condition unless he was hit low."

After Schmeling was examined Mayor Jimmy Walker, of New York city, visited the German's dressing room and shook hands with Max.

"I'm terribly sorry to see the con-

Fort Mac Poloists Guardsmen Meet

With increased interest in polo due to the recent tournaments at Fort McPherson, a game has been planned between the Fort McPherson and Governor's Horse Guard teams for 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Fort McPherson. Fort McPherson was eliminated in both of the recent tournaments and the Governor's Horse Guard won the state championship in the national guard and R. O. T. C. competition and lost to Fort Benning for the state championship.

test end this way because I'm sure you were going to give us a good show."

Fifteen minutes after the unsatisfactory ending Schmeling said he felt all right except for a pain in his left side.

"I feel all right," Max said, "but you know I hurt here," indicating his groin with his hand.

This is the third time Schmeling has won on a foul. He won on a foul from Jimmy Lygett at Kolo, Germany, in the second round in 1924. He again won on a foul from Herman van Thoff in eight rounds in 1926.

It is the first time Sharkey has ever lost on a foul, although the Bostonian has himself won three times on fouls.

Sharkey claimed foul in the seventh round of his bout with Jack Dempsey three years ago, turning his head to the referee and leaving his chin exposed for Dempsey to smash with a left hook and knock out the sailor. Sharkey's version of the strange ending follows:

"I had maneuvered Schmeling against the ropes. He raised his guard and I bank my left leg into the pit of the stomach. The blow was not low, I could feel it sink into the stomach."

YOUTHS, VETS VIE FOR HONOR

Fishermen of All Ages Enter Lakewood Angling Contest.

Fishermen will past their "three score and ten" will vie with the young blood Isak Walton at Lakewood park this afternoon when the first annual "Amiable Angler" day will get under way with free fishing in the big lake at the park, which on every other day of the year is closed to angling.

Two veterans of the rod and reel and pole and line above 70 years of age have already entered the fishing contest, which will take place from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. J. B. lieve: he will be one of the outstanding anglers of the city.

Raymond Elliott, age 10, and his father, C. R. Elliott, will be in the father and son classification, and R. L. Ezell will bring out his family to seek honors. East Point entries include Tom Callahan and E. A. Whitley.

The rules call for six hours of fishing with one pole. Judges will be on hand to observe the anglers and prizes will be given for the largest fish, the greatest number, the heaviest catch, the oldest angler, the biggest fishing family and other designations.

General Manager Oscar Mills, of Lakewood park, is receiving many calls from prospective fishermen, many of whom are trying out the old friendship excuse to get to throw a line in the lake ahead of time, but all must obey the rules, the park chief says.

Hamilton Can Lose His Club to League

Jimmy Hamilton, the Mobile manager-owner, may awake some day to find that the Southern association has settled all his worries for him.

An examination of the league constitution Thursday revealed that the league can take over any franchise if the directors so vote. There are a number of conditions. One condition provides that if the holder of a franchise does not conduct the club in a business-like fashion and in a manner creditable to baseball the league may assume his franchise and divorce him absolutely from it.

Hamilton has wrecked his club and reduced it to 11 men. His efforts to take the franchise to Knoxville have been frustrated to date.

lieve: he will be one of the outstanding anglers of the city.

FEDERATED WOMEN AGAIN TALK MOVIES

DENVER, June 12.—(AP)—Today's session of the 20th biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs saw reintroduction of the question of the "commercialization" of the federation by the motion picture industry, believed disposed of Monday with the adoption of the report of the department of Pittsburg. Revival of the matter caused surprise in the ranks of the delegate body.

Apparently designed particularly to place the federation on record as opposing any mention of the organization in connection with the work of the motion picture industry, the resolution submitted by Mrs. L. Allen Hoover, of Baltimore, was referred to the resolutions committee.

The convention adopted the report of Mrs. Ben Hooper, of Oklahoma, Wis., chairman of the department of international relations after a vigorous protest from the floor had fallen short of its mark. Mrs. Fred Eric, of Philadelphia, introduced a proposal of the report on the grounds that it was misleading and placed the convention on record as endorsing the World Court before the government's reservations had been accepted at Geneva.

Prohibition also showed its face at today's session in the report of Mrs. John C. Sweeney, of Los Angeles, chairman of the division of law enforcement, who said "every member of the federation is considered as a speaker for the enforcement of prohibition."

Re-election of Mrs. John F. Sippel, of Baltimore, president, and other officers excepted treasurer was announced today.
